

Difference in median partitioning fraction to solids and liquids between literature based estimates and MATS ICR measurements